Twenty-five E.R.C. Fellows Leave For Custer Amid Cheers of Students and Friends

Crowds See Boys Off In Chapel and at Bus

March twenty-ninth, nineteen hundred forty-three, was a memorable occasion in the lives of twenty-five of Hope's Army Reserve men who left at that time to go to Fort Custer to join Uncle Sam's forces. The morning chapel services were dedicated to all of the boys who were leaving this week and also to those who have left to serve their country. The service was opened by the singing of the National Anthem after which the college pastor, Rev. Bast, read the scripture and led in prayer. Professor Cavanaugh directed the Chapel Choir's rendition of "Souls of the Righteous." After Dr. Wichers' parting address which aptly expressed the thoughts of everyone present, two members of the Gideon society were introduced — Mr. Fred Beuwkes and Mr. Peter Notier. Mr. Beuwkes gave a brief address and Mr. Notier personally presented each departing ERCU with a copy of the New Testament.

A large group of students, relatives, and friends met at the bus station at twelve o'clock to see the boys off. At this time each boy also received a gift of a box of cookies from the Salvation Army. After singing the alma mater, final farewells were made.

Blair Chosen as Y. W. President

At the YW elections recently held, Mary Blair was chosen president; Eleanor Le Noble, vice president; Josie Fitz, secretary; and Ellen Giebel, treasurer. Members of next year's cabinet chosen by the new president include Ellen Jane Kooiker, mission chairman; Frieda Grote, music; Marie Jenkins, publicity; Dorothy Frontjes, social; Mary Lou Hemmes, personal service; Jane Waldbillig, deputation; Dorothea Dixon, big sister; June Pyle, finance; and Frances Colenbrander, membership.

Gibbs Speaks at Installation
The officers and new cabinet members were installed at an impressive candlelight meeting on Tuesday evening, March 30. Patricia Haskins played a group of cello selections accompanied by Edna Blom, as a prelude. An inspirational talk on "The Real Person" was given by Miss Margaret Gibbs, faculty adviser for YW. A familiar hymn was sung by Ruth Ann Poppen, accompanied by Edna Blom. Retiring president, Florence Dykema, presided at the meeting and at the installation ceremony.

Have Breakfast at Tavern
The new cabinet and the women of the faculty were the guests of the outgoing cabinet at a breakfast in the Tulip Room of the Warm Friend Tavern, Saturday morning, March 27. Tables were arranged to represent the Y triangle and were attractively decorated with spring flowers. Following the breakfast, a short program was presented which included a piano solo, by Jane Smies, poetry reading by Ruth Van Bronkhorst, and a vocal solo by Dorothy Wichers, accompanied by Frieda Grote. Miss Gibbs and Miss Dykema were presented with gifts by the outgoing cabinet in appreciation of their work. Arrangements for the breakfast were made by social chairman, Mimi Moncada.

STAFF MEMBERS

The ANCHOR picture for the MILESTONE will be taken tomorrow afternoon at 5:30 in the Commons Room. Members of all departments on the staff are asked to be present.

Practice Teachers Have Tea Monday

Between four and six on Monday afternoon, April 12, the senior girls who are doing their practice teaching this year will hold a tea at Voorhees Hall in honor of their critic teachers. The tea is being substituted for the dinner which has been given other years. General chairman of the event is Eleanor Schoonmaker. Her committee consists of Janet Clark, in charge of invitations; Barbara Dee Folsensbee, program; Syd MacGregor, decorations; and Irma Stoppels, food. Tea will be poured by Dean Lichty and Miss Carolyn Hawes.

Senior girls and their guest include Wendy Rameau and Miss Maibelle Geiger; Ruth Newham and Edna Blom and Miss Mame Ewald; Eleanor Schoonmaker and Florence Bouwens and Miss Marian Shackson; Irma Stoppels and Miss Blanche Cathcart; Donna Eby and Miss Bernice Bishop; Edith Klaaren and Miss Jeannette Mulder; Marjorie Borgman and Mary Elizabeth Van Dyke and Miss Florence Kosen; Mildred Timmer and Syd MacGregor and Mrs. Beuna Henshaw; Betty Davis and Miss Joan Vander Werf; Janet Clark and Miss Helena Messer; Louise Becker and Miss Marie Hardy; Marjorie Brouwer and Miss Van Vyven; Barbara Dee Folsensbee and Miss Randals; Pearl Scholten and Miss Van Dyke; Florence Dykema and Mrs. Peterson; Adelaide Wandscheer and Miss Doris Brouwer.

Dormitory Solves Problem of Labor

There isn't a great deal that can be done about the shortage of manpower, but the girls of Voorhees have an answer to the shortage of woman-power. Because of the abnormal conditions of the times, Mrs. Van Zomeran, matron at Voorhees, has been unable to hire maids for the dormitory. Since it would be impossible to run the dormitory with the present staff, the girls themselves have agreed to do the work.

This means that each girl will put in about an hour of work every two weeks. The girls have turned in schedules of their free hours to Mrs. Van Zomeran, and she has organized and assigned the work, using the girls in alphabetical order. Each girl does the work to which she is assigned; it is against the rules of the game to hire some one else to do the work. Inhabitants of Van Vleck as well as Voorhees take part in this program, and scrape dishes, scrub floors, wash pots and pans in the kitchen with a right good will.

This democratic solution to a difficult problem is a credit to the girls of the college, an indication that they are willing to do their part and to accept the small inconveniences with a constructive, rather than a complaining attitude.

Winstrom Elected Glee Club Pres.

At the March 30 meeting of the Girls' Glee Club, Rose Winstrom was elected president for next year. The office of secretary will be filled by Ellen Jane Kooiker and that of treasurer by Norma Lemmer. Librarians are Libby Romaine and Betty De Vries. Mary Elizabeth Aldrich was elected as WAL representative.

Rehearsals in preparation for the Spring Concert, to be held some time during the month of May, are now in progress.

"Radio" Theme for Next English Majors Meeting

English Majors will hold their April meeting next Wednesday at 7:30. The theme for the evening will be "Radio." Edith Klaaren, who is chairman of the program, will talk on "Radio Speaking."

Betty Jane Smith will offer an interpretive reading, and Al Weenink will speak on "Incidents and Experiences that Make Good Plot Material."

Place of meeting will be posted on the bulletin boards at a later date.

Tardiff Elected W.A.L. Prexy

Hope co-eds elected Vivian Tardiff, president; Norma Lemmer, vice president; Rose Winstrom, secretary; and Joan De Young, as treasurer of the Woman's Activities League.

An absolute tie resulted in the first and second elections between Lemmer and Emery running for the vice presidency. The situation was discussed in the WAL board meeting where it was finally decided that the members vote and thus decide the election. Norma Lemmer received the majority.

Both girls have served on the WAL board before. In addition, Vivian has been very active in French club, debate and oratory, placing third in the State oratorical contest.

Norma is a member of houseboard, glee club, choir, French club, and is associate editor of the Milestone. She is also active in sports.

Rose Winstrom takes a very active part in sports, is a member of choir and has just become president of the glee club.

Joan De Young is a member of German club, has served on the houseboard, the Anchor staff, and is an active participant in girls' sports.

Pre-meds Choose Graduate Schools

Hope's '43 crop of pre-meds has been lining up med schools for study in their chosen field. Of the future M.D.'s who have already received official admission the University of Michigan claims five: Verne Boersma, Les Nienhuis, Norm Davis, Bob Heneveld, and Lloyd Lemmen. Clarence Vander Velde plans on heading north to Marquette University and Andy gave us. It seemed to be our passport to Post 7 where the boys were. We passed troop after troop and drove slowly to see if they were our boys. They all seemed glad to see a few girls... at least they... well, they weren't the ones we were looking for.

Don "Major" Battjes was the first to find us (we couldn't find him). He's sporting a German haircut — his first deed of independence.

Howie Koop appointed himself guide and took us to the reception center. He told us all the army expressions and proudly exhibited his army shoes — size infinity. So far his occupation is driving nails into a huge door. Says Private Howie, "I never saw so many nails in my whole life!"

Jack Yeomans came in and helped Howie tell us about their tests. It seems Jackson was trying his psychology on one of the lieutenants and Howie was kinda worried about the outcome — or come out, cause how could they get passes if the Lieuty was down on them!

Bob Barkema ran all the way, but was a little disappointed at the absence of... let's see... what did he say her name was? Anyhow, between conversation he wrote a letter for us to deliver.

Chuck Martindale told us about his feeble attempts to get home for the week-end. Seems he's quite a story-maker-upper, but not good enough for the sergeant. Said the private to the sergeant, "I'd like a week-end to see my gal." Said the sergeant to the private, "If she wants to see you she can come here."

The immunization shots were too much for Hoots Rowan. He was spending a quiet day at home (in the barracks).

May Day Festivities Scheduled For Second Friday in May

Steele Takes First At Pi Kappa Convention

First place in the men's oratorical contest held Friday evening, April 2, at the Pi Kappa Delta Convention at Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio, was taken by Hope's representative, Harland Steele. Second and third places were taken by men of Kent and Michigan State colleges.

In the women's oratorical event, Vivian Tardiff placed third while the entrants of Michigan State and Michigan Central placed first and second, respectively.

In the debate sessions held Friday morning and afternoon, Steele and Cal De Vries won two out of five for Hope while Vivian Tardiff and Corinne Pool took three out of five in their series.

Saturday morning the debate finals were held but Hope did not compete. In the women's extemporaneous contest, fourth place was taken by Corinne Pool.

The four Hope entrants at the convention left with Prof. Schrier right after chapel on Thursday morning. Going by way of Ann Arbor where Prof. Schrier took his examinations for a Ph.D. in German, the group arrived at Tiffin Thursday evening. In addition to the speech contests, a banquet and other social functions were enjoyed.

Chairman Edith Klaaren and Committee Heads Plan for Election of Queen, Sports, and Unrationed Banquet

Chairman Edith Klaaren announces that the traditional May Day festival will be held on Friday, May 14. A new campus queen will be crowned and next year's Alcor and Blue Key members will be tapped. Committees for this annual affair are busy working on the plans and preparations.

The queen will be chosen through popular student elections on the campus. The entire class of junior girls will be on the eligible list. Dean Elizabeth Lichty, WAL president Barbara Folsensbee, and May Day Chairman Edith Klaaren will select one girl out of the five highest for the queen. The choice will be based on popularity. The next six girls will compose the queen's court. This method was used last year and proved successful.

French Club Meeting To Feature Play

Wednesday, April 14, the French Club will meet in the Commons Room at 7:30. The main feature of the program will be the presentation of a modern play, Zamacois' "Un Arriviste" by Miss Lichty's class in conversation. The leading role will be played by Constance Crawford, supported by Elaine Scholten, Eleanor Schoonmaker, Rose Seith, Vivian Tardiff and Barbara Van Volkenburgh. All French students are invited to attend. Election of officers will take place at the business meeting following the play.

Girls Track First

Commencing the all-day program are the traditional girls' inter-class track events in the morning on the college athletic field. The girls will compete in various races and relays. Supervising these activities will be Jean Ruiter and Carol Bos. The men's sports, which are in charge of Ets Kleinjans and Arnie Vermeer, will take place in the afternoon on the athletic field.

The crowning of Her Majesty and the presenting of her court and the guard of honor will take place in the pine grove providing it is favorable weather. The all-college banquet given in Carnegie gymnasium will feature non-rationed food such as chicken. Milly Timmer and Gordon Van Oostenburg are co-chairmen for the banquet. Other students on the banquet committee include Wendy Rameau, dinner; Marge Emery and Harland Steele, program; Phid Van Duizer, and Jim Burger, gym decorations; Bud Koranda, clean up; Bud Claver and Anna Laura Parsons, tickets.

Other committee heads for the event are Florence Dykema and Louis Chisman, publicity; Donna Eby, junior girls' contest; Barbara Folsensbee and Bruce Mikula, music; Marge Brouwer and Syd MacGregor, throne and coronation; Louise Becker and Mimi Moncada, guard of honor.

Koeppe Heads Y. M. Cabinet

On Tuesday evening, March 30, the YMCA held its annual election. The new officers are, president, Roger Koeppe; vice president, Len Sibley; secretary and music chairman, Ed De Young; and treasurer and membership chairman, Bill Brandli. Because the male population of the college has been somewhat depleted, several offices have been combined.

The remainder of the cabinet consists of Roy Davis, mission chairman; Harland Steele, deputation; Dale Van Lente, social; and Russ De Vette, publicity. Davis and Steele will also edit the Y-Fore, while personal service will be in the hands of Van Lente and De Vette.

Banquet Held for Y Members
Installation of the new officers took place last night in the YM room after the old and new cabinets and other members of the Y had enjoyed a dinner at the Emersonian House. This dinner, which was open to all Y members, is a new feature in the Y program, replacing the former banquet given by the old cabinet members in behalf of the new cabinet. It proved to be a very successful and stimulating innovation.

Scholten, Scott Elected to WAA

Mildred Scholten and Audrey Scott have been chosen as representatives to the Women's Athletic Association on merit of their interest, participation, and leadership in the women's sport program of the college. Members of the sophomore class, they were selected from four candidates, to serve a term of three years. They will be eligible for offices in their senior year.

Newsdrops -

Williams Field, Arizona, was the scene on March 11 of the commencement exercises for the first group of Chinese pilots trained to fly twin-engined planes. Although censorship forbids printing actual figures, the number of graduating pilots would have filled the stage of any good-sized college.

On Saturday, March 27, two former students, Jan Arnold and Ken Newendorp, were married in the First Lutheran Church of Rochester, New York. Newendorp, who was a member of Emersonian, graduated last June. Miss Arnold, who has been studying since September at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, would have been a Junior this year. She was a member of Sibylline.

The office of the Netherlands Information Bureau located in the City Hall has one of the finest collections of information on the present war that can be obtained in the city. Willard C. Wichers, director of the Holland branch of the Bureau, announces that students and faculty of Hope are welcome to use this material at any time.

Veldhuis will make Johns Hopkins his future place of study. Seven others are also in line for the medical profession but have not yet selected a school.

Miss Metta J. Ross returned to her classes last week after a seven-weeks' absence made necessary by a recent operation. Appreciation is expressed to Rev. Bastian Kruitthof, Dr. Wichers, Miss Oggel and Mr. De Graaf for conducting English and history classes during Miss Ross' absence.

Meanwhile Miss Lichty is also convalescing after suffering from a fall down the back stairs in Voorhees. Miss Lichty broke several ribs when she fell while carrying some French books.

Mrs. Kronmeyer, Miss Lichty, and Mrs. Van Zomeran recently gave a party in Van Vleck Hall in behalf of the various maids who have been keeping the dorm so spic and span, and preparing the food for the co-eds.

Congratulations are due to Eekie Klaaren, who was recently awarded the Regents' scholarship to the U. of M. Eek will do graduate work in English.

Word has been received that John Nyboer, Hope '26, and his daughter were killed on March 20 in a bus accident at Grant, Illinois. Mr. Nyboer was the son of Mr. Henry Nyboer, college janitor, and the brother of Bob Nyboer, freshman.

Postwar Period Presents Obligations and Opportunities

An opportunity to build a new world civilization will confront the American people in the postwar period, declares Prof. Lyman Bryson of Columbia university.

Professor Bryson told 829 candidates for degrees at the University of Michigan that they face a great immediate test, but declared it is necessary to insist that "what you have to go through will be worth any necessary sacrifice because the world that comes after the war will be one in which those who believe in freedom will be allowed to live by it, and those who believe in violence will be restrained."

The postwar period should not be regarded merely as an opportunity to repair damage done by the war, Bryson said. Instead, he foresees a period in which all the engineering ability the United States can produce will be put to good use, and he predicts that the time immediately after ought to see greater scientific advance than any in the past. Also he hopes we will be scientific about human beings. All these possibilities are declared by Bryson to be evidence "that the people of America will have the means with which to build a new world civilization." No other generation of men has had an opportunity like this, he said.

Pointing out that we did not enter this war with the crusading spirit so evident in World War I, Bryson declared that on the whole this was a great advantage because if we can fight and win a war in a mood of grim realism we may be more ready to take the grimly realistic measures that will be necessary afterward.

Americans are just beginning to learn the hard lesson that we will have to resort to power until we have created a world in which violence and injustice are impossible, he said, and such a world is not now in view. "Men are going to be dangerous to each other for a long time to come," Bryson predicted. "The countries of Europe are going to be cut up by civil wars, by bloody quarrels among their leaders and be hot with the fevers of revenge."

Bryson warns that Americans cannot withdraw into a shell of isolation as long as Europe and Asia are in long drawn-out guerilla warfare.

"We shall have to help combat anarchy as we have fought against aggression," he asserted. "Unless peace and order can be established everywhere we will have to choose between anarchy at home or a degree of military preparation and control that will be almost intolerable. What this amounts to is to say that your generation carries an enormous weight of responsibility put upon it by the long series of failures to which my generation contributed so much. You have not only a war to fight and win. You have also a world to straighten out." — Associated Collegiate Press.

War Widows

"Red" Wagner finally rounded up enough clothes that fit him. We hear it took him considerably longer than the rest due to a few extra inches of longitude.

We packed up a few of the boys and whizzed them off to town. The guard saluted "General" Don. Must be the dress hat he was wearing, or that old-married-man look. And then the chief problem at hand was how our little privates could walk down the street with a girl on their arm if they had to salute every officer they met. "Simple," said Pfeifer after due cogitation, "we'll walk on the other side of the street."

By way of a summary . . . The Hope squad is still altogether . . . Their biggest thrill is their long underwear. Wagner and Yeomans explained, "They start at the chin and go down, and at the toes and go up, and we're really all zipped in" . . . They're waiting to be

"bingoed" (shipped out) and never know when they wake up in the morning if today will be the day . . . And from all of them to all of you, a great big "Hi."

We stood up and hooked our rip-cords to the safety line. "When that doors opens," I thought, "I'm going out fast." A bell rang, the door opened, I was out — falling, falling — It was really quite comfortable. I only hoped I wouldn't land too hard; my feet are flat already. For luck, I picked up an old horseshoe, spit on it, and tried to throw it over my left shoulder. Unfortunately it got hung up on my ear. I looked at the waiter suspiciously. "Say, what was that horseshoe doing up here anyway?" "Just floating around, sir."

I was in no mood to dispute the point. "I'll have a hamburger."

"Yes, sir, everything on it?" Being conservative, I thought this over for a moment. "No," I said, "you can leave off the horseshoe."

"The horseshoes are very good today, sir, very tender."

"No," I said irritably, "leave it off. I don't like horseshoes with my hamburger. It always starts an unpleasant train of thought."

The pilot came walking down the aisle, pausing now and then to pick up a cigarette butt with a long pointed stick. He grinned apologetically. "I like to keep in practice. Sucker spearing season starts tomorrow in Michigan."

The man sitting behind me got up, opened the door and walked out. "Good heavens," I said, "doesn't he know we're nearly a mile in the air?"

"Oh, that's all right," answered the pilot. "We're above Michigan now, and he was wearing water-wings."

"Don't tell me it's raining!" I moaned. The co-pilot came back. "Stand by for a crash!" he yelled. The pilot pulled a sundial out of his pocket. "Synchronize watches! It is now 7:20 — we'll crash at 7:22."

"Good," I said, "I'll be able to make it to chapel."

There was a terrifying lurch and the sickening crush of metal. I could hear birds singing. "I must have a terrific knock on the head," I thought, and began frantically digging myself out of the wreckage. Suddenly my head cleared. I opened my eyes. My roommate said in a peeved voice, "If you must fall out of bed at 7:22 in the morning, do you have to drag the blankets with you?"

Camp to Campus -

The Hope boys who left last week for the Army at the invitation of the E.R.C. are now at Fort Custer, rapidly being converted into full-fledged soldiers. They are in two adjoining barracks, and visit each other as often as time permits. Jim Wierenga writes that if you don't like to mop floors, don't join the Army. It seems that they have gotten their full share of floor mopping; and Gordon Brewer seems to be appalled at the prospect of being on K.P. duty from 3:30 a. m. to 8 p. m. Dick Pfeifer is enjoying the meals, and particularly the fact that they get something besides bran flakes for breakfast. And Pres Stegenga writes that "Parson" Kleis just had his ears lowered and really looks sharp.

K.P. for Blaauw

K.P. seems to be one of the chief worries of the fellows. Jack Blaauw, at Camp McCoy, says that he was on K.P. for four days already, "even though I didn't do anything bad."

Randall Dekker writes from Miami Beach: "Incidentally, yesterday, I was official pot and pan scrubber at 'Officers' Mess.' Just like owning your own business at a big loss. I'm also learning a little Judo — which consists of pulling a man's arm off and beating him with the bloody end — poking his eyes out — breaking his arms, etc. Everything that's been taken out of sports has been added to this. Try it some time."

Don Williams, in Fresno, California, writes, "We get up about 5:30 every morning, breakfast at 6:00, 7:30 we do something, anything, just to pretend we are busy. This morning some of us were to pick up paper and butts. We worked for an hour and then snuck back to the barracks and sat around."

A Challenge

A frightening page with five line staves

That must be filled with notes and bars,

With rests and dots and hundreds of symbols

Arranged so perfectly that from this mass of print Comes beauty.

Before the poet lies a clean, white page —

A frightening page with equidistant lines

That must be filled with titles and with words,

With punctuation marks and hundreds of symbols

Arranged so perfectly that from this mass of print Comes beauty.

Before you lies a clean, white page —

That must be filled with a record of your deeds,

Your spoken words, and seemingly trivial things,

But all arranged so perfectly that from each new day Comes beauty.

Spring Brings Usual Thing: Campuses Bast Cuts Chapel Once, Lichy Knits,

One thing you have to admit about spring this year, it's not over-eager! The crocuses bloom in the park one day, and snow falls the next. The New Yorkers and Iowans say it's no more than can be expected of Michigan, and the Michiganders admit sadly that their state does have unusual weather. Now you take Wisconsin, for instance. . . .

Weather or no, the rest of spring's activities are in full swing; there are even a few cases of spring fever among the faculty, but we can't mention names because Mr. Cavanaugh asked us not to. Of course, the subject of Coach Hinga's immortal lines is what everybody's thoughts turn to. Some people are luckier than others in being in a position to do something about that. For instance, the other Tuesday evening Miss Winifred M. Rameau became formally engaged to Mr. Daniel Fylstra of the Christian High School faculty . . . and is that solitaire diamond gorgeous! Wendy may now officially join the long list of senior girls who are working on their hope chests . . . Syd MacGregor and Louise Becker have collections of beautiful stuff that would turn any girl green with envy.

Seems like spring got under Cy Voogd's skin, too . . . and Helen Thompson came in last Friday night blushing wearing his frat pin . . . Bobbie Reed, the New Hampshire kid, was a little at a disadvantage, since her frat pin from Corporal Harold Wormuth came through the mail . . . but it's the principle of the thing that counts, says Bobbie, glowing.

Ah, romance, romance . . . Little Floss Dykema dashed to Marine headquarters in Quantico for an exciting week-end . . . all alone on the train, imagine that! A bevy of beautiful Hopeites trotted off to Fort Custer twice last week-end . . . and who would be better morale-raisers than Donna Eby, Janey MacDonald, and Rosie Seith?

Prof Bast wishes to remark that crime does not pay. Once . . . Just once all year! . . . he was absent from chapel. What happens? That morning at least one person in every one of his classes asks him if Dr. Dimment was translating from the Greek. Prof feels sad about the whole thing, especially since he also missed Chuck "Abner" Dykema's lone and dauntless trek down the center aisle during the last, not the first, hymn. What poise, what grace, what colossal nerve! . . . Doc Raymond's pupils are beginning to wonder about the advantages of prolonged vacations, and are rather more than perturbed about their mid-semester exams. As Dottie Wendt says mournfully, "I've studied for that old thing seven times, and I still don't know the stuff."

Now that the dorm is run Bryn Mawr style and Mrs. V.Z.'s troubles are beginning to thin out a little, her enjoyment of life is spoiled by a case of flu . . . Miss Lichy is knitting soakers, but be calm, chillun, she is about to become an aunt . . . When Vonnie Yntema sneezes, the whole dorm jumps . . . The loud noises emanating from both dorms today, Wednesday, at six o'clock are the screams of joy from campus queens Rosie Atkins, Mil Vander Linden, Ruth Van Bronkhorst, and Mary Lou Hemmes, who are at that precise moment free again . . . Well, what all the girls say about a campus, at least you have a lot of time to think.

The lack of foolery on April Fool's day leads some to believe that there must be a war on. The sandwich boards running around campus today prove there's a war, and the WAL is still trying to get one hundred per cent support of it. Honestly now, one or two war stamps a week is little enough to do when you think what some of the fellows we all know are doing. It seems as though we'd be ashamed not to buy all the stamps we possibly could!

Sibs "Fool" Dorians at Annual Joint Meeting

The Commons Room was the scene of much foolishness last Friday evening, April 2, when the Sibylline society entertained the Dorians with an April Fool's Day meeting. After greetings were extended and received by the two society presidents, Sib Edith Klaaren and Dorian Fanny De Kleine, the rolls of the two sororities were called.

The devotional service read by Helen Wilhelm was enhanced by a piano accompaniment by Edith Klaaren. A quartet composed of Bette Mulder, Freida Grote, Mary Blair, and Edna Blom entertained with some rare interpretations of "For Me and My Gal" and "Ma, He's Makin' Eyes at Me."

Evelyn Shiffner then presented an interesting and educational paper on "The Origin of April Fool's Day." An instrumental duet was rendered by Pat Haskins, cellist, and Theresa De Haan, violinist, accompanied on the piano by Betty Christie. Their encore was a unique presentation of "The Merry Farmer" played in three different keys.

An original skit, written by Elaine Scholten, was acted out by a mixed cast of Dorians and Sibs. Marian Sandee then led the group in a bit of singing. Final number on the program was presented by Ruth Probst with a "What-Ya-Call-it," a musically illustrated story.

A social hour was enjoyed after the literary program, with refreshments being served by the Sibs.

"Cosmo Querk" is Feature of Cosmopolitan Party

The Cosmopolitan House again became the scene of a party for Cosmos and their guests on Friday evening, March 26. At this time twelve Cosmos and their feminine guests enjoyed a spook party at the "Cosmo Castle."

Real beginning for the party was found in the classified section of the Holland Evening Sentinel on Thursday evening when an ad was placed there by Cosmo Querk telling the guests where to assemble for the party. At the fountain of Centennial Park the couples were picked up and after the girls were blindfolded, the group was taken to the "Castle."

Here the group was met by a butler, and then introduced to an old cockney caretaker who was to act as their guide on a tour through the old castle of Cosmo Querk, former pirate of Black Lake who had used his castle as a torture chamber in days long since gone by. Various other employees of the late pirate were also introduced to the group before the tour.

The guests were also told the legend of Cosmo Querk and his threatened return to his former castle on the night of March 26, 1943, to slay all his employees for disobedience. Then as the groups passed from room to room of the musty old castle the murder of the various employees was carried out before their very eyes.

Butlers and gardeners were found stabbed in the back, electrocuted, hanged, decapitated, and generally killed in a way appropriate to the bloodthirsty pirate and his career of torture and crime. Finally Cosmo Querk himself appeared on the scene and carried off the guide after a brief struggle.

The guests, at the suggestion of one of their number, fled through the nearest door, coming into the parlors which were well-lighted and appropriately arranged for a social hour. Here ghost stories were told (with the help of Prof. Timmer), and refreshments were served to the trembling guests.

Prof. and Mrs. Albert Timmer were guests of honor for the evening's entertainment. Roy Davis was general chairman, while Harland Steele, who also acted as guide, was in charge of the script and Allan Bruggink handled the properties. Cosmo Dale Stoppels, Al Rezelman, Arys Huizinga, George Toren, Phil Baron, and Al Bruggink acted the parts of butlers, gardeners, tortured prisoners, insane chemists, and murdered men in very realistic fashion.

CHARD FRATER PREXY

The Fraters opened their regular weekly meeting with prayer by Al Rypstra. A rousing song service (led by George Dalman) followed. Ets Kleinjans led five of his brothers in a rare rendition of "The Road to Mandalay."

Ken De Groot gave a serious paper entitled "The J. P. Morgans." This was followed by a humor paper on "Spring" by Paul Hinkamp. Bob Chard gave his inaugural address, having advanced to the office of president in absence of Seymour Padnos, who left with the E.R.C. The master critic for the evening was Dick Dievendorf.

At the business meeting which followed, Dick Dievendorf was elected vice president. Ets Kleinjans was given command of the Frater softball team, and Bud Koranda will head the track lineup. Plans were discussed for having a service plaque for the Fraters in service. Following this the meeting was adjourned with singing the Frater song.

SOROSIS FROSH "SPRING"

A sparkling program with "Spring" as its theme was presented by Sorosis frosh for the approval of upperclassmen Friday evening, April 2, in the clan's room which has visions of being redecorated to some extent (or at least housecleaned!)

Chairman Natalie Bosman led devotions and Shirley Romeyn entertained with her "Piano Prattle," two solos, "Indian Love Call" and "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise." In the absence of "campus" Rosanna Atkins her serious paper on "Spring of '43," was read by Nat Bosman. The paper urged Sorosites to take a new lease on life at this time of the year.

As the freshman gift to the society the all-efficient Bosman presented President Milly Timmer with a lovely white envelope containing three pictures of Abe Lincoln on attractive green backgrounds. Elsie Parson's humor paper was "Some Line, or How to Keep Two Men on the String at the Same Time," that is, provided you are lucky enuf to have TWO men! The meeting closed with the singing of the Sorosis songs, the critic's report by Sorosite Lois Mary Hinkamp, and a genial "gab fest" while all members munched cupcakes and nut-covered paddles.

Elections at the business meeting included Jeanne Shiffner, baseball captain, and Barbara Tazelaar, WAL representative. Freshmen were definitely reminded of their housecleaning duties and the room committee did some further delightful dreaming.

RADIO TOPIC FOR KNICKS

Knickerbocker meeting for April 2 was opened by a song service led by "Maestro" Jay Rutgers, with Tom Van Dahm "falling all over the piano." Devotions were in charge of Jack Krum.

The educational side of the program was presented by Charles Van Zylén with a very interesting paper on the new type frequency modulation radio. Charles discussed both the advantages and the disadvantages of this new set. Mr. Shoemaker gave a good criticism of this paper.

Humor for the program was in charge of Lloyd "Not-So-Funny" Van Raalte. His paper, entitled, "Letter from a Draftee," was given a "Krummy" criticism. Master critic for the meeting was Bob Spaulding.

During the business meeting the joint meeting with the Fraters, to be held this week, was discussed.

CHISMAN GIVES INAUGURAL

At the meeting of the Emersonian society Friday evening, April 2, retiring president, Clarence Vander Velde, delivered his exaugural address. In his paper Clarence thanked the society for its cooperation, and gave a summary of his term in office.

The ex-prexy then installed Louis Chisman as his successor, Jim Burger as vice president, Larry Beltman as secretary, Keith Soderburg as treasurer, John Rypstra as sergeant-at-arms, John Geary as keeper of the archives, and Bill De Bell as house manager.

After the Emersonian song was sung by the group, Lou Chisman presented his inaugural address, which consisted of a short history of the society, and a picture of the future and of methods for achieving success.

In the business meeting which followed Jim Burger was elected captain of the softball team, and Bill Midvaine and Bill Slocome were chosen as co-captains of the track team. President Chisman then appointed Clarence Vander Velde as trustee to fill the unexpired term of Milt Verbarg, and Leon Sparling as reporter.

DELPHIS GET "SPRING TONIC"

Delphi meeting for April 2 was in charge of the sophomores who presented a program centering around the theme of "Spring Tonic." Irene Lundie, as mistress of ceremonies, passed out the "vitamins." "Spiritual Awakening" was conducted by Marie Steketee, and Peggy Cross added a "Mental Stimulant" with her review of Steinbeck's "The Moon Is Down."

Carol Meppelink elucidated upon the healthful features of bicycling in spring in her humor paper. Chorister Connie Crawford then led the Delphi warblers in a bit of singing, and Jayne Smies led in the Delta Phi cheer.

Officers for the spring term, elected last week are, president, Jean Ruiter; vice president, Loise Becker; secretary, Florence Bouwens; and treasurer, Esther Van Dyke. Eleanor Everse was chosen as Delphi representative to WAL board.

KLAAREN IS SIB PREXY

At the Sib meeting held March 26, Edith Klaaren was elected president for the spring term to succeed Janet Clark. Taking over the duties of vice president is senior Irma Stoppels, while Edna Blom receives the books and Florence Dykema the money bags. Anna Laura Parsons was elected to captain the Sibylline team in the inter-sorority baseball league.

THETAS ELECT KOOPMAN

Meeting of the Thesaurian Society held Friday, April 2, was opened with a short candlelight ceremony to formally initiate Helen Van Alst as a full-fledged member. After Helen had been welcomed into the society, annual election of officers who will take over at the end of the semester, was held.

COSMOS HOLD COURT

Regular Cosmopolitan literary meeting for April 1 was opened by Arnie Schaap who offered the prayer for the evening. Chorister Dick "Penny-pitcher" Hine led the group in a bit of rousing song service. The singing was concluded with the National Anthem.

Newly-elected President Harv Mulder then delivered his inaugural address, outlining Cosmo history for 1942-43, and prophesying a difficult future during wartime conditions on Hope's campus.

Humor for the program was interjected by a so-called play. The characters for "A Day in Court" were Judge Harv Staal; plaintiff, Dick Hine; defendant, Albertus Van Dyk; and prosecuting defense attorney, Harry Steffens. Master critic for the evening was Chuck Dykema.

During the business meeting which followed, Dan Fylstra offered a box of "Philadelphia Phillies" for Cosmo consumption, announcing his recent engagement to Sibylline Wendy Rameau.

ANCHOR STARTS SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Kibitzer . . .

. . . by Reg Koeppe

Before we get into spring sports, just a parting shot for basketball. Before commenting on the recent All-MIAA selections we'd like to say as we've said several times before, that "Gabby" is the most underrated man in the league. However, considering that the team was chosen by a vote of all the players it was surprisingly good. Personally, we think the top ten men in the league are the "Blitz Kids," the Howe Brothers of Alma, Isaacs of Albion, Thompson of Kazoo and Magiera of Hillsdale.

Now on to spring sports! . . . Oh, pardon me! . . . we aren't going to have any . . . And why not? Gas and tire rationing, they tell me. Now don't get me wrong, if the armed forces need the gas and tires to win this war then they should have them. But I ask you . . . when half of Hope college can travel to Grand Rapids to see the Calvin game, when thousands throughout the country are attending all sorts of sports events, when tens of service teams are traveling far and wide to participate in sports events, when topnotch basketball teams travel thousands of miles to play at a Red Cross benefit program, is it wrong for one or two carloads of Hope athletes to travel to Hillsdale, Alma, Albion and Kazoo.

No, they won't make any Red Cross money, or win a national championship or play before large crowds . . . No, not that. But . . . they would do just what every other war-time sports program should do . . . build morale . . . and, believe me, we need it at Hope . . . Last week 25 left . . . The week before some left, and the week before that . . . and so it'll be next week probably. And we who are privileged to stay, we're supposed to work . . . harder than ever before, and we're trying . . . hard. We don't have 40-hour weeks, not many of us, anyway.

When the army boys get through with their day's work I'll bet they organize a ball game or else grab a paper to see how the Yanks came out or turn on the radio to hear the Armstrong fight . . . They love sports . . . So do we . . . A grave mistake was made in cancelling Hope's spring program.

However, sobbing doesn't help. Something has been done to at least partially remedy the situation. Let's get behind the softball league and when May day comes we're GOING to have a track meet, war or no war!

Incidentally, don't be surprised if the Yanks win, even without Joe Di Maggio.

Hope Will Not Take Part In Spring Program

The spring sports schedule this year is very limited. Gasoline and tire rationing has made it necessary to almost curtail all spring sports. Tennis and golf are being entirely abolished. There will, however, be an MIAA track meet if there are enough individual entries for the various events.

There will be track and baseball if there are enough fellows who show interest.

There will be a May Day Inter-Fraternity Track Meet as in previous years. All fellows who expect to participate in the meet must work out and get in condition at least two weeks before the date of the track meet. Some of the fellows already started working out on the track last week.

"Duke," "Rusty," "Ets," And "Porky" Make ALL-MIAA Team

Four of the Hope college "Blitz Kids" were placed on the All-MIAA squad. No other team placed more than two on the team. Mulder and De Vette got first team positions and Kleinjans and Dalman were put on the second team. This is the second straight year that "Ets" and "Porky" have made the honor team.

This year's team was chosen by the players themselves. Each member of each team chose his all-star team and from these votings the squad.

All four of Hope's men were captains of their respective high school teams. Dalman, who was captain at Holland High a few years back, has been chosen captain of next year's team.

The first team:

Forwards — Jack and Robert Howe, brothers, Alma.

Center — Russell DeVette, Hope. Guards — Don Mulder, Hope, and Elkin Isaac, Albion.

Second team:

Forwards — George Dalman, Hope, and W. Thompson, Kazoo.

Center: T. Patrick, Hillsdale.

Guards — Everett Kleinjans, Hope, J. Kirchner, Kazoo, and J. Magiera, Hillsdale.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

By Willie

With Betty Kamps in charge, the bowlers of "Hops University" rolled it to a "strikin'" finish! Sometimes in the gutter but more often in the groove, the final picture is this:

	W	L	Pct.	Total Points
Sib B	4	0	1.000	3774
Sib A	3	1	.750	4638
Dor A	3	1	.700	4358
Del A	2	2	.500	4301
Sor B	2	2	.500	3611
Del B	1	3	.250	3659
Dor B	1	3	.250	3592
Sor A	0	4	.000	3923

And now for the meat cooked March 26. Sorosis B took Delphi B, 956-954. That Sib B, "I owe it all to Wheaties," team, won over Dorian B, 991-773. Dorian A came and conquered Delphi A, 1126-934. Sib A chalked up 1139 against Delphi A's 990. Glory, laud and honor goes to Frieda Grote and Shirley Ottman for high scores, 147 and 136, respectively. What a finish To Sib B team goes first place with second tied of Sib A and Dorian A. It was a good fight, kids, to the last pin. Bravo!

This week also brought our basketball season to a successful conclusion. March 23 the Marksmen bit the smoke of those sky-pilots, the Navigators, 21-15. Side by side

Cancelling of Regular Spring Sports Means More Inter-Frat Competition

In view of the fact that Hope will not participate in the MIAA spring sports program, the Anchor has decided to sponsor an inter-frat softball league and has made Roy Davis chairman.

Roy reports the complete cooperation of all the fraternities and says that play will begin immediately if the weather permits. The games are tentatively planned for Friday afternoons from three o'clock to six. However, if this time is not satisfactory to all involved a new time will be set.

Cooperation Needed

In sponsoring this league the staff asks for the complete cooperation of the entire student body in keeping up the spirit and enthusiasm in spite of the fact that there will be no inter-school sports this spring. Let's have crowds, big crowds; cheers, more cheers; and loads of pep and excitement.

Each team has been asked to supply its own ball and bats; thus expenses will be small and distributed equally. The captains of the various teams are: Jack Krum, Knicks; Jim Burger, Emmies; "Ets" Kleinjans, Fraters; and Roy Davis, Cosmos.

If the softball experiment proves to be a success a tennis tournament will probably be held.
